

Responder Safety and Violence Awareness

November 13, 2013 – 6pm – 10pm

Twin City Ambulance Training Center – 555 Commerce Drive

In addition to the normal dangers of handling daily emergency requests, non-Law Enforcement responders are increasingly encountering weapons and violence at emergency scenes.

This seminar is designed to help all responders recognize potentially dangerous people and situations, and to teach methods of de-escalation, self-protection, and escape to be used when a good call turns bad.

A portion of the evening may involve hands-on training – flat shoes and comfortable clothing suggested.

Please be advised that this is NOT a certification course. The content presented is meant for informational purposes and cannot be expected to guarantee the safety of providers in all situations. Space is limited – please RSVP!

Presenters:

Keith E. Bender

FBI Special Agent

Coming Under Fire – Cover and Concealment

Michael

Baumgartner

Tactical Paramedic

Responder turned Victim – Awareness and Self-treatment

Sean P. Hulsman

Paramedic / EMS Instructor

Scene Survey and Signs of Imminent Physical Attack

Thomas J. Huff

Sheriff's Deputy /

Academy Instructor

De-escalation and Hand to Hand Defense and Escapes

Twin City Ambulance

555 Commerce Drive
Amherst, New York 14228

To register contact:

Sean Hulsman

692-2342 Ext. 136

shulsman@tcaems.com